

AQUA CLARA

Second War Edition of AQUA CLARA

Dedication

To the parents of our boys and girls now serving their country and the parents of the seniors who will graduate into the armed forces, the Aqua Clara of 1944 is dedicated that we may remember the sacrifices these mothers and fathers are making.

Foreword

All the world is a stage and the men are but the actors on it. They have their entrances and exits—Shakespeare

To gather together glimpses from our high school life we have taken the suggestion of Shakespeare and presented the Aqua Clara in play form. There have been big moments for us, hard times and tough breaks, but altogether it's been a happy play to live.

Now we are ready to move on to a greater play, LIFE, and to play the difficult role of Men and Women in a war torn world. To play this new part well will be our reward for work done well here.

Taking our last bow on the stage of C. H. S. the class of '44 presents the Aqua Clara.

Remember?

Looking up into the heavens, we see myriads of brilliant silver stars, some blindingly bright, others distinctly clear and some rather dim.

Those bright stars represent the height to which all seniors rise. We seniors of 1944 all over the country are now the stars of the stars of the show, a show which is becoming increasingly less hilarious and more dramatical. Perhaps it has been necessary for us to adopt a slightly more serious note to our roles, because of the effects present world conditions are having on all our senior classes. However, we haven't assumed black as our class color—nothing so droll as that. No sir, we have had gay fun playing and growing up together.

Remember the readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic days of grammar school when you "played Hooky" instead of "skipping"; the annual track meets which always meant spring and an approaching vacation? Remember how scared you were when you came to junior high for the first time? How freshmen looked like seniors and seniors looked like giants? Remember playing six-man football and worshipping the star Tornadoes? You'll never forget Glee Club parties and the contest trips. And how about that historical boat ride to Honeymoon Island as freshman?

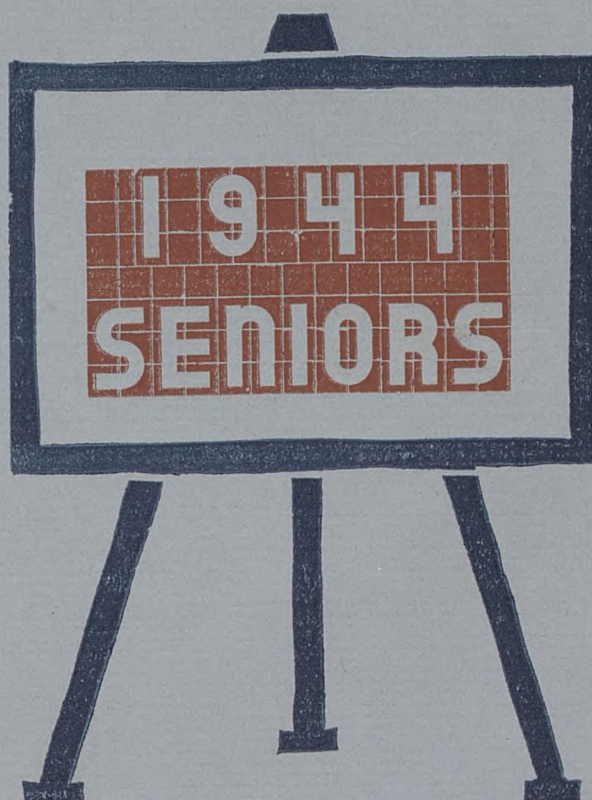

Then we really became interested in acting our assigned parts in our high school drama. At first, as mere apprentices, we simply helped out as stage hands, picking up bits of knowledge, with our leader, Wallis Skinner, urging us along the way. The main job we were allowed to do was usher at the baccalaureate sermon for the seniors of 1942.

The following year we were allowed to criticize and profit by watching the stars as an onlooking audience preparing to succeed those in the spot light at that time. Jerry Taylor was our guiding light during this year of close cooperation with the seniors of 1943. Remember the Junior-Senior beach party. How we thought C. H. S. couldn't get along without those seniors, as we decorated for graduation?

Now it's our turn. We hold the spotlight and are proud of it. The star with top billing in our senior class is Sigmund Liberman, and under his tireless energy and tenacity we have achieved a great deal in our supporting roles. We shall never forget "What A Life," Skip Day, Junior-Senior party, and then graduation night. There is some ecstasy in recalling cheering at football games, going to the weekend dances, grumbling about homework, and whispering in chapel, none of which will be quite the same again.

No, we won't forget these years; for it is impossible to forget what we shall always remember.

Without our band, many events would have lost some of their zest and pep. Of course, we have in mind mainly the football games. If we ever have a chance to attend a football game somewhere else, no doubt the band music will ring a note of wistfulness in our hearts as we remember those wonderful nights at Green Field with confetti drifting all around us, a trombone blaring in our ears, and that excitement which only comes during a high school game with the band in the background. We'll not forget the shows our band put on for us during each "half," either.

Of course, the man-shortage problem hit the band, too, this year. But, on the whole, during our high school years the band has brought glory to C.H.S. in the state contests and parades all over the state, leading the Miami New Year's Eve parade, consisting of approximately fifty bands, in 1942.

Yes, we should like to salute our band and its director, Prof. Grella, as we say good-bye.

Football

The Tornado grid gladiators took off slowly this year and gained speed as the season progressed—but not fast enough.

This is the first year the Tornadoes have played the same team twice. A decided difference can be seen between the first and second game. The first game with Tarpon Springs ended in a 0 to 0 tie, but the Tornadoes won the second game 20-6. Plant City spanked the Tornadoes 25-13 in the first game, but in the second game won by 13-12 on a last minute touchdown. St. Pete rolled over the Tornadoes 34-0 in the first encounter, but Clearwater scored in the second game leaving St. Pete with a 37-7 victory.

Injuries, ineligibility and many other “breaks” kept the Tornadoes out of the win. Another hindrance was that this was Coach Hancocks first year with the Crimson and Gray. Although he worked like a superman, the material for a winning combination just wasn't available.

Bobby “Goat” Forbes was definitely the best all-round player this year. Out of the 15 touchdowns CHS racked up this year, Forbes made 10 of them, Koch made 3 and Cason and Truluck each one.

By far the best game of the year was the Bradenton game. CHS trailed 12-0 at the half. But in the last six minutes of play the Tornadoes came from behind to win 19-18.

Here is the schedule and results:

0 C.H.S. vs. Tarpon Springs	0 There
0 C.H.S. vs. St. Petersburg	34 There
0 C.H.S. vs. Hillsboro	40 There

Basketball

The Red and Gray basketball quintet started off fairly well, but, as in the case of the football team, they suffered a losing season.

The Tornado five won only three games out of nineteen, including two tourmanent games. The wins were, once over Plant City and twice over F.M.A.

Frasier with the help of Forbes, Avery, Kennedy, Driver, Allen, Mc Kinney and Roshon formed the varsity team while Koch, Scofield, Williams, Woods, Chisholm, White and Brown made the junior varsity.

In spite of the disappointing season. Bob Frasier succeeded in winning honors for the Crimson and Gray quintet. He was voted First String Big Ten and Regional Forward.

Ten Years From Now

Well, folks, this is your Broadway correspondent bringing you his daily talk from one of New York's swankiest night Clubs, "The Tool Box", so named because people loosely wander in and come out tight. My microphone and I locate ourselves just to the right of the 3-piece band so we can watch the people crawl in the door (the door is Eskimo style).

The first person we see entering is that wealthy steamship line owner, Mr. Paul Seavey with an unknown brunette. Mr. Seavey has bought a new ship. Now he has two.

What's this we see sneaking in the door with his hat in his teeth!! Why, it's none other than the wolf himself, Mister Walter B. Feagins. You should see him stalk the two blonde chorus girls.

Now we notice two World War II Veterans approaching the bandstand to request the Marine Hymn. They are Navy men. One is former Lt. Commander Robert Thurman and Appren. Seaman Archie Young. Thurman is said to have been the deciding factor in the furious battle for the magnetic North Pole. There now is my ideal!

Coming in the door now is none other than Congressman Fred Wilder, the appropriator of the bill for setting up a new W. P. A. With him we see two other prominent men of the day, the illustrious Mr. Wallis Skinner, president of the Nation-Wide Food Machinery Corp, Manufactuers of the world's tinniest tin cans and Mr. David Bonner, the foreign correspondent of the ages. It is said that Mr. Bonner saved Washington from being bombed by hurriedly rushing from the scene to summon the army, who were all on furlough.

Entering now with Mr. Sigmund Liberman, prominent lawyer, escort, we see the beautiful Miss Wilma Woodruff. For these two, marriage seems unavoidable, as they have been seen together for the last seven years.

Ah yes! We knew he'd be here! It's none other than Mister Robert Frasier, escorting Miss Bettie Moore. Mr. Frasier is a mechanical draftsman. He builds toys for the Tiny Tot Toy Co. of Clearwater, Fla. Miss Moore is the University of Tampa's most illustrious and brilliant teacher of sewing and housekeeping.

Folks, it is surely a pleasure to have the honor of the company of Mr. William Hotchkiss, Musician extraordinary. Mr. Hotchkiss is credited with the fall of the Borkoff Hall in Stalingrad. He played his concerto on the piano there!

Ah! The Entertainment of the evening. A beautiful song by a glamorous girl, Miss Jean Sever. I believe her selection will be "Dance of the Indians", by I. Will Stomp.

The song is finished, and on looking around, I spy some newcomers. One is the great psychiatrist, Sir Roger Chisholm. Sir Roger is now engaged in a study of methods of transferring the characteristics of a flea to the human body in order to enable a man to jump at least 10 to 12 blocks at a time. Sir Roger seems to think this will solve industrial transportation difficulties. With Mr. Chisholm we see a fellow scientist, Mr. Robert Knight, professor of physics and dishwashing at Wataspot University, one of New York's largest schools.

Wow! Escorted by an unknown but handsome character we see the beautiful debutante, Miss Helen Shaw. Miss Shaw is credited with having won World War II by tours of the South Pacific and to England— — —the morale you know.

We see Mr. John Benjamin Hoadley directly in front. Mr. Hoadley is President of N. A. G. C. (National Association of Garbage Collectors).

Well, we knew this was too good to last; here comes Lt. James E. Garrison only discharged since World War II from a 20 yr. contract with the U. S. Infantry. Lt. Garrison is said to have been caught picking honeysuckle in the middle of a furious battle.

Now the thrill of the evening! We notice to our right Miss Ann Stone, deeply engrossed in a conversation with one of New York's leading playwrights, J. Rota Skitt. Such charm! Such beauty!

Turning to the more sporting line, Mr. Richard McClarnand is seen seated in the back of the room. Mr. McClarnand is noted for his sports commentation. He is announcer for the noted Cereal Bowl games.

Girls! Girls!. Boy, oh, Boy, just look at the girls.

Here tonight also is Miss Anita Shahan, cover girl for most of the nation's leading magazines. In fact, Miss Shahan covers most magazines at one reading.

Oh, another solo? It's none other than Mister Al White, the noted singer. Mr. White sings the popular song "Life is Lovely", by Alca San Quentin.

Well the blonde bomber has just entered. It's Miss Marjorie McClung! Miss McClung, head nurse at the H. and S. Hospital (H. & S. meaning Hold 'em and Skin 'em) is wearing a beautiful blue evening gown with—Wait a minute—I'm no fashion editor!

As we look to our left we see Miss Sally Moore entering now. She is the head of the Democratic Problems department at the Carmack Institute of American Government.

Well, folks, looks like my time is up, so this is your Broadway correspondent signing off until next week at the same time. Don't forget to tune in!
